

Community Resource Directories

There are many places to find information on local community resources. For trusted sources of information, contact your installation Military and Family Support Center or Military OneSource. Information and referral specialists at your Military and Family Support Center can help you find resources, both on and off the installation. To find your nearest Military and Family Support Center, visit MilitaryINSTALLATIONS, select Family Center and enter your nearest installation or your postal code. If you don't live near a military installation, you can access resources in your state and local community through MilitaryINSTALLATIONS. Just enter your state and click Go for state-specific resources.

The following websites offer service-specific information on family support programs:

- Army Community Service Center
- Marine Corps Community Services
- Navy Fleet and Family Support Center
- Airman and Family Readiness Centers
- Defense Logistics Agency
- U.S. Coast Guard
- National Guard
- Manpower and Reserve Affairs
- Army Recruiting Command Soldier and Family Assistance
- Marine Corps Recruiting Command Family page
- Navy Recruiting Command
- Air Force Parents & Family page
- Department of State

For services in support of wounded warriors and their families, visit these websites:

- National Resource Directory
- Army Warrior Transition Command
- Marine Corps Wounded Warrior Regiment
- Navy Safe Harbor Foundation
- Air Force Wounded Warrior